Masons Have Big Time

The regular monthly meeting of the King Hiram Lodge, No. 21, A.F. & A.M. was held on Wednesday evening of this week. King George Lodge of Calgary conferred the degrees; twenty-five members of that Lodge attending, as well as four from Olds. These including local members made up a total of seventy-five. The Right Worshipful Grand Master, T. F. English, of Calgary was present. During the evening the Right Worshipful Brother Hollinger was presented with a life membership for his services to the Order in the early days. The presentation was made by Worshipful Brother McGhee. When the degree work was finished the company adjourned to a banquet provided by the ladies of St. Hilda's Chapter. A musical programme followed put on by the King George Lodge. The usual toasts were spoken to. A splendid time was had by everyone.

Bergen-Niche Valley

Bergen school started with Miss Ada Herron as teacher.

Chas. Erickson's house has been recently painted and looks well indeed. The School Fair held at Sundre was not as large as last year's. The weather was responsible for this.

On Sept. 7th we had a snow that stayed until the next Sunday. I may have to harvest my grain on stilts or hire a submarine. I know when the saturation point has been reached—"say, boys."

The Westcott young folks came over in time for Sabbath School a few Sundays ago. Among them were Herman Snyder and sisters, Genevieve Brown, Alice Rennie, Eva, Emma, Frank and Howard Good. If the Westcott scribe can find a nicer band of young people than these, outside of a town, we would like to see them.

Ira Gamble received a box of candied figs from his father, who lives in Long Beach, Cal. It was to remind him of a birthday occurring on August 11th.

Rev. S. W. Gamble is making a new revised calendar of thirteen months, having four weeks of seven days each. Every week, month and year will begin on Monday, and Easter Sunday will always be on the same date. There will be a Sabbath two days long each year, and two such Sundays in leap years. It will be an improvement in the calendar now in use.

Orville Geiger will teach Eldswold school this year, and we wish him a successful year.

Mr. Clare Post has been here for a few months from Vermont. He may want to return when he sees the early snows.

Mr. Odenburg received his engineering papers a few days ago. He doesn't like himself very well in Alberta yet.

Rugby Notes

The monthly meeting of the Rugby W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. C. Brown on Sept. 9th. Owing to the contrariness of the weather man, who by the way is really only fit to go to Ponoka, these days, and on account of bad roads, the attendance was not as good as it should have been.

After the business was finished, a most enjoyable "All Scotch" program was given. This included community singing of Scotch songs, two excellent readings by Mrs. Parker and Mrs. McFarlane, our president also favoring us with a vocal solo "The Scottish Emigrant," and a pianoforte selection of Scotch airs by Mrs. Hosegood. At the conclusion of the program we were treated to a real Scotch lunch. This was so good it "tasted like more."

Old Friends Meet In Golf Tourney

Jock McCowan in Herald Golf Event Meets J. McDougall After 17 Years

"Well, if it isn't my old caddie, Jock McCowan," exclaimed James McDougall, Didsbury representative in The Herald golf competition, when he stepped up to McCowan of Banff at the Palliser hotel the other day as they were strolling into the rotunda to enquire about conditions for the day's play.

"Well, well," exclaimed Jock as he stepped forward and shot out a friendly hand to Mac. "It was away back in Comrie, Perthshire, Scotland, that I carried your bag of sticks, Mac. I was just a wee lad then going to school. And to think of it, I am playing in the tournament with you away out in Western Canada now."

That is just one of the many features that enter into an event of this kind. For the past 12 years McCowan has been at Banff and McDougall has farmed in the Didsbury district for something like 17 years. They never heard of each other since the days back in Scotland.

What Trade Treaties Mean To Canada

The tumult and the shouting is over, the ballots have been cast and counted, and the standing of the two major political parties in the House of Commons has been reversed. Whereas in the last short-lived Parliament the Conservatives held 116 seats and constituted the largest group, in the new Parliament, Liberals have, at the time of writing, 118 seats and are the largest group. In addition there are 71 Liberal-Progressives elected pledged to support a Liberal Administration.

In other words, in the new Parliament, unlike the old, there is a clear majority of members returned in support of one particular leader and who accepted nomination at the hands of conventions of the Liberal party. That is, the complexion of the new House of Commons makes possible a more stable form of government than existed in the last two Parliaments.

Then, over and above, the clear-cut majority of the Liberal and Liberal-Progressives united in support of a Liberal Administration, numerous Progressives, Independents, Labor and United Farmer members, practically all of whom represent Western constituencies, can be depended upon to give fairly consistent support to a Government pledged to the carrying out of Liberal policies.

Now that the battle is over, and the general verdict of the electors obtained, even those who would have preferred to see Mr. Meighen and his party victorious will find a degree of national gratification in the fact that the result has been fairly decisive and the stalemate, which has prevailed for so long to the disadvantage of the whole country, broken. It is what both of the major political parties desired and asked for, and what it has been demonstrated a majority of the constituencies wanted.

And now to business. Let everybody settle down to the task of assisting Canada to overtake such ground as may have been lost owing to the uncertainties of the situation in the past and grasp the splendid opportunities which are open to the Dominion.

In this column last week the view was expressed that whatever party was placed in power it should devote its energies to the further promotion of the policy of negotiating trade treaties with other countries, and particularly with all other sister nations within the Empire, and thus open to Canadian products and manufacturers larger and more profitable markets. We now desire to repeat and to emphasize that declaration. Since it was written a week ago, evidence has accumulated to demonstrate its wisdom.

On the day of the election a large display advertisement—not of political character—was inserted in Canadian papers by one of the largest automobile manufacturing concerns in the Dominion. It was headed: "The Millions Gained by Export are Millions Saved for You," and it went on to point out that it was owing to the rapid increase in its export business that reductions in price had been made possible in Canada, because of the enormously greater volume of production and consequent increase in efficiency and in lower production costs. It was not a tariff shutting out competition which had brought increased prosperity to this firm, but the opening of new and wider markets abroad through trade treaties, and leading to greater production, larger purchases of materials in Canada, and the employment of many hundreds more of Canadian workers.

More evidence of a similar nature is found in an article by the chairman of the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association who gives a long list of both direct and indirect benefits accruing to Canada from the recently negotiated treaty with Australia, and which he estimates means the gain of a $70,000,000 market for this country. This Manufacturers' Association official makes a strong plea for a continuation of this policy of negotiating trade treaties, and, above all, that a stop be put to the making of a political football out of such matters.

It is right and proper that such treaties should be carefully examined and fully discussed by Parliament and the people of Canada, but when they have been approved and put into effect the efforts of petty politicians to try and create party capital against the Government of the day by seeking to arouse one set of people against the treaty because of some one particular item in it, and another set because of some other item, instead of viewing the treaty in all its nation-wide aspects, should be frowned upon and resolutely opposed.

Canada produces a surplus of nearly everything raised in this country. If Canada is to prosper and grow greater, and employment found for an ever increasing number of people, that surplus must be profitably disposed of in world markets. In order to obtain entry into those markets on the most advantageous terms, Canada must offer some concessions in return. That is only business, and the same principles must govern in international business as in private and domestic business relations.

for wheat-growing honors at Chicago, the New York Sun says:

Montana supplied to the world its champion wheat grower last year, when L. P. Yates, of Fishtail, in that state, captured the title at the International Grain, Hay and Stock show in the autumn in Chicago, but Canada does not intend to let the honor stay south of the international boundary if its farmers can drag it north. This international competition was instituted fifteen years ago, and Canada has taken the blue ribbon thirteen times. Seager Wheeler succeeded in finding top place five times. Nobody else touches Mr. Wheeler's record in this achievement, although Mr. Mitchell has won three times.

For Faster Trains

Railroad trains will be able to compete with aeroplanes in speed when ballbearings are used on coaches, engineers believe. To make such high speed safe, the rails must be set in a solid roadbed and several miles of this track is to be built at Detroit for experimental purposes. The concrete will be 18 inches thick and 19 feet wide. Such construction would allow an enormous saving in final operating costs, it is said.

Invention Of Russian Scientist

New Method To Extract Many Products From Coal

From 500 tons of coal a Russian scientist would extract, by a new method which he has invented and which is being seriously considered in Great Britain, the following products:

2,000 gallons of gasoline.
6,500 gallons of kerosene,
3,000 gallons of lubricating oil.
12,000 pounds of paraffin wax.
20,000 pounds of phenol.
45,000 pounds of pitch.
12,000 pounds sulphate of ammonia.
12,000 pounds of sulphur.

And even after that he would have left 374 tons of smokeless fuel that would give a greater heat than coal. Dr. Paul Dvorkovitz, the inventor of this process, is said to have interested British financiers and engineers in the project.—New York World.

WORK WORN PEOPLE

Find New Health By Improving Their Blood

If you feel run down, it means that your blood is thin and watery, that your vitality is low. You do not sleep well and are tired when you rise in the morning. You find no pleasure in your meals and are listless and dispirited at your work. You have no energy to enjoy yourself.

Thousands of men are run down by anxiety of work. Thousands of women are broken down by their household toil, with tired limbs and aching backs thousands of girls are pale, listless and without attraction. It all means the same thing—thin and watery blood, vitality run down, anaemia, poor appetite, palpitating heart, short breath.

Do not submit to this. Get new blood and with it new vitality. There is no difficulty in doing this. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up and enrich the blood, which brings with it new health and vitality. The man, woman or girl who takes Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is never run down. Their friends notice how energetic they are, what a fine appetite they have and how much they enjoy life.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Important Scientific Discovery

Claim Nickel and Cobalt Benefits Cases of Diabetes

Professor Gabriel Bertrand, director of the biological chemical laboratory of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, is the authority for the announcement before the American Chemical Society that experiments with nickel and cobalt have produced encouraging results in the treatment of diabetes.

Experiments conducted by Prof. Bertrand and associates, he stated, first with nickel or cobalt alone and then with a mixture of the two have met with results sufficiently encouraging to cause continued experiments. The biological expert stated that they have found cases of simple diabetes, excluding the consumptive type, could be benefited, sometimes to the extent of the complete suppression of the sugar output.

The two metals, the professor added, had been found present in the human body especially the pancreas gland.

Achievement In Europe

Lady Astor Tells Americans They Should Rejoice

Americans should rejoice in Europe's post-war progress rather than "hold up their hands in horror at the present situation," Viscountess Astor, M.P., declared in New York.

The admission of Germany into the League of Nations, with "the world's greatest war only eight years over," she said, was an achievement of which Europe was proud, "no matter what you in America think."

In her address before the National and New York League of Women Voters, Lady Astor said that while "many thinking people" believe the United States has taken the wrong course in the matter of international debts, she was not "discouraged by national or international mistakes." Nations learn from their mistakes—at least some do," she said, "and there is no reason to be downhearted."

The First Air "Sleeper"

Was Operated Recently By Germans Between Berlin and London

London saw its first flying sleeping car recently when a German aeroplane arrived at Croydon from Berlin. It was the Albatross L-73, a twin-engined biplane capable of rushing almost silently through the night with four persons sleeping in luxurious berths in the cabin. The passengers' cabins have electric lights and running water and by day the berths can be converted into seats.

Dr. Ruth, of the Albatross company, designer of the plane, was aboard when she arrived in England.

New Markets For B.C. Timber

The province of British Columbia contains two-thirds of the merchantable saw-timber in Canada, says the natural resources intelligence service. Since the opening of the Panama Canal many new markets have been developed for Pacific Coast lumber. In fact, several enterprising companies ship Douglas fir and other valuable British Columbia woods by boat to the St. Lawrence River and there saw them up into lumber for distribution throughout the Eastern States and Canada.

Great Britain Honors

Clever Chinese Girl

Made "Member of British Empire" For Educational Work

The first Chinese woman to be made a "Member of the British Empire," is Miss Foonyee Catherine Woo, principal of St. Paul's Girls' School of Hong Kong. King George has conferred this honor on Miss Woo for her educational work among girls and women.

Miss Woo was educated at the Fairlie School, Hong Kong, the Clapham High School, England, and Charnwell Hall, England, where she received her teacher's diploma. In ten years she has built up her school until there are 700 girls on the roll and the British Government in Hong Kong has granted her a site for a new building.

Japan's huge demand for radio sets has apparently been satisfied. There has been a sharp decline in the demand for radio sets from that country. Previously Japan was one of the largest importers of sets.

It is usually safe to say that when a child is pale, sickly, peevish and restless, the cause is worms. LIBERAL PARTY WILL ONCE MORE ASSUME POWER

Ottawa.—Final returns received strengthen the position of the Liberals. The Liberal party will have 118 straight representatives, at least, in the sixteenth parliament, while Conservatives will have 91; Liberal-Progressives 11, and Progressives 8. The remainder will be made up of United Farmers of Alberta, Laborites and Independents.

The impression is that the government will resign as soon as the Liberal party is able to take over the reins of office. Former Premier King with 118 of the 245 seats in the house, would then form a cabinet depending on support mainly from the eleven Liberal-Progressives and 8 Progressives elected.

Talk of a Liberal-Progressive coalition is already being suggested in political circles here, and in this connection it is altogether likely Mr. King will include Robert Forke, former Progressive leader, in any ministry which he might be called upon to form.

In all probability parliament will be called to assemble in November.

On October 19, Mr. King is due in London for the imperial conference. Some months ago, the Canadian Government accepted the invitation but recent developments have left the situation much in the air. Important questions are likely to arise at the conference and there is a feeling that the prime minister should be there in person. At the same time, there is questioning whether he will be able to form his government and transact necessary public business in the interval.

One of the surprises of the campaign was the decline in Conservative strength in Ontario and the prairies. In Ontario, the Conservative representation dropped from 68 to 53. In Manitoba, where Conservatives held seven seats in the last parliament, they will have none in the next. In the whole of the three prairie provinces, there has up to the present been only one Conservative returned as against nine in the last parliament. In Quebec, where Conservatives had counted on gains, their representation remains the same. They have four seats as in the last parliament.

The prime minister himself failed to secure election in Porge la Prairie, Man., and five of his ministers, three of them from the province of Quebec, were defeated. On the other hand the Liberal party, headed by Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, now constitutes the largest group in the new parliament. Mr. King and all the members of the former government who contested ridings were returned by the electorate. Mr. King was elected in the constituency of Prince Albert, Sask.

Family Settlement Plan

Lord Clarendon Says Scheme Provides Canada With Picked British Settlers

Montreal.—"A conspicuous success," was how Lord Clarendon regarded the 2,000 family settlement scheme which has provided Canada with a flow of picked British settlers during the past two seasons. Lord Clarendon was in Montreal enroute to the Maritime Provinces. He said he would return home in favor of renewal of this form of settlement, which was to his mind the best kind of colonization.

Progress in Ireland

Vancouver.—Ireland is experiencing now that degree of unity which is synonymous with social and industrial progress, declared Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, who, with Lady Craig and party, arrived here from Prince Rupert. Sir James has completed a journey across Canada and will remain at the Pacific Coast for about a week before returning east.

War Against Indians

Mexico City.—Aeroplanes and gas bombs will be used against the Yaqui Indians now in revolt in the state of Sonora. The Mexican war department also ordered out cavalry and infantry. The Yaquis in rebellion complain that much of their tribal lands have been expropriated.

Wants Seat On League

Claim Is Being Pressed By Irish Free State

Geneva.—A sharp fight is developing in the league for the ninth non-permanent seat on the council which was originally considered as safe for Portugal.

Other probable candidates are Finland on behalf of the Baltic group, Czechoslovakia whose claim is supported by some of the powers in the hope of retaining the valuable services of Premier Benes on the council, as well as Ireland.

Ireland has notified all the dominions' delegates that in spite of their decision not to demand a seat on the council, Ireland is a candidate for the place and that she is best serving the interests of the dominions as a whole by pressing her claim.

In view of this statement, Sir George Foster has amended his declaration that none of the dominions were candidates for the ninth place, making his exception on behalf of Ireland.

Fighting In China

British Cruiser Has Been Ordered to Leave For Seat of Trouble

Devonport, England.—The British cruiser, H.M.S. Carlisle, has been ordered to leave for China.

Hankow, China.—The "Red" Cantonese forces made another attack on Wu Chang, but again were repulsed. The bombardment killed a number of non-combatants. The food shortage is acute.

A relief expedition is being organized to rescue missionaries and other foreigners at Wu Chang. The British gunboats, H.M.S. Cricket and H.M.S. Bee, have left for Wanchien, while a naval detachment has entrained for Changsu.

Question Not Treated Seriously

Talk of Americanizing Canada Humbug Says British Labor Leader

London.—"The talk about the 'Americanization' of Canada is the veriest humbug," declared Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, M.P., colonial secretary in the late Labor Government, in an interview here on his return from a visit to the Dominion. "Nobody there treats the annexation question seriously."

Mr. Thomas remarked that once again he had been immensely impressed while in Canada with the potentialities of the Dominion and the great spirit of enterprise in all directions there.

Montevideo, Uruguay.—President Joe Serrato has submitted to congress a bill to abolish the use of honorary titles, such as "your excellency," on the ground that such forms of address are not becoming to an ultra-democratic country such as Uruguay.

Kingston, Jamaica.—The British Government has decided to disband the West India Regiment, the oldest negro unit in the British Empire. The decision has caused much disappointment here.

Budapest.—A new Hungarian currency will come definitely into effect on January 1, 1927, when the 1,000 and 1,000,000 crown ($1.45 and $1,450) notes now in use must disappear from circulation.

ITALY ANGERED BY THE STAND TAKEN BY FRANCE

Rome.—Orders issued to the Fascist party by its directory refer vehemently to the French attitude in refusing to accept responsibility in the case of Cino Lucetti, who came from France to make his attempt against the life of Premier Mussolini. The order says in part:

"The land of France, for whose safety some of our 500,000 war dead fell, has been for years the most hospitable land for all those hatching in their perfidious hearts that red against Italy."

"It is there," the orders continue, "that spirits are excited, bombs are built, and those people are instructed who later will enter Italy to attempt the life of the head of the Italian regime. All this cannot be longer tolerated."

The orders declare that, if France desires to continue friendly with Italy as the latter desires, she must change her line of conduct. At any rate, after what has happened, Italy will keep a sharp watch at the frontiers and receive people such as Lucetti with "guns in hand."

Organizers of armed revolts against state authority, and those attempting the life of the King, Queen, Crown Prince or head of the government, will be subject to capital punishment in Italy, according to an outline of a bill being prepared as an aftermath of the recent attempted assassination of Premier Mussolini.

Gains Made By Parties

Change in Standing of Different Parties As Result of Election

Toronto.—The Canadian Press issued the following final summary of gains by parties:

Liberals from Conservatives, 22; Liberals from Progressives, 1; Liberal-Progressive from Conservatives, 2; Conservatives from Liberals, 4; Progressives from Conservatives, 2; Labor-Liberal-Progressive from Conservatives, 1; U.F.A. from Liberals, 2; Labor from Conservatives, 1.

The standing at dissolution was: Conservatives, 115; Liberals, 101; Progressives, 24; Labor, 2; Independent, 2 and 1 vacancy.

Hit By Depreciation

Louvain.—Belgium's financial difficulties have swallowed up at least temporarily, much of the million dollars worth of Belgian bonds presented to Belgium for rebuilding the famous library destroyed by the Germans in 1914.

Candidates Lose Deposits

Liberal Candidates in Toronto and York Fared Badly

Toronto.—Nine candidates in the Toronto and York districts lost their deposits in the voting, according to the returns compiled. There will be other additions to the total figures, but it is not expected the result will be materially affected.

The Liberal candidates in the Toronto and York losing their deposits were:

Shipway, in Toronto South; Murdoch, in Toronto High Park; Tipping in Parkdale; Hunter, in West York; Boyd, in Toronto North West; Dr. Walker, in Toronto, Scarborough; and Miss Bennett, in Toronto East. Both Labor candidates—Simpson in Toronto North West and Macdonald in West Centre—also lost their deposits.

Each of the candidates who lost their deposits will forfeit $200 to the Dominion Government.

Congratulates King

Sir Henry Drayton Says Mr. Meighen's Defeat Is Regrettable

Toronto.—"I congratulate the King party on its return to power," said Sir Henry Drayton, M.P. for West York and acting premier at Ottawa during the absence of Mr. Meighen. "May they, this time, give something with it for Canada."

Mr. Meighen's defeat, he said, was particularly regrettable. His courage in sticking to his first constituency had been characteristic, although not appreciated. Quebec had remained solid, he said, and this again was a regrettable feature. He thought the vote did not record the thought of Quebec on the real economic and fiscal questions before the country.

Robert Forke Satisfied

Former Leader of Progressive Party Comments On Elections

Brandon.—"The federal election results are very satisfactory," declared Robert Forke, former leader of the Progressive party, when interviewed.

Mr. Forke, who regained his seat in Brandon, having the endorsement of both the Liberal and Progressive parties, added the results were particularly gratifying both from a Dominion and provincial viewpoint.

The former Progressive leader had no comment to make when asked about rumors from Ottawa that he might enter the cabinet of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Youngest Member In House

Ottawa.—It is claimed Louis Auger (Independent-Liberal), of Hawkesbury, Ont., who was elected to parliament for the constituency of Prescott, will be the youngest member of the new house. He is in his 21th year.

BRITAIN SUFFERS FROM EFFECTS OF COAL STRIKE

London.—"The paralyzing effect of Great Britain's prolonged coal strike is so great," says The Westminster Gazette, "that a five-year industrial truce is needed for the business of the country to recover. Premier Baldwin is back in London, but his hands appear to be tied by the refusal of the die-hards in his party to permit pressure on the mine owners, and it is doubtful whether the premier will call a conference of the owner's representatives as he had suggested."

The Westminster Gazette estimated that the coal strike had already cost £350,000,000, while the ministry of labor's statistics further emphasize the seriousness of the position by showing that 1,559,500 are unemployed, which number does not include more than a million idle miners.

The spokesman of the Federation of British Industries, asserts that manufacturers were forced to pay £3 a ton for inferior foreign coal, instead of 15 shillings, as in normal times, and that even if the strike ended tomorrow the industrial world would not resume full action for a long time. Six weeks probably would elapse before the blast furnaces were in operation, which would delay the iron and steel works, and, in turn, engineering and similar works.

The Westminster Gazette's Labor correspondent says he has obtained from A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Union, a statement that miners would agree to a national plan which might embody rates fixed in different districts. He said that provided a national agreement should be assured, the men would agree to a reduction of wages and an extension of their hours of work.

Historic Step Toward European Peace

Deposit of Locarno Treaties With League Ends Mistrust

Geneva, Switzerland.—Another historic step in European reconciliation was taken with the deposit with the secretariat of the League of Nations of the ratifications of the Locarno treaties of security and arbitration. This was followed by an optimistic statement by Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister, to the British correspondents that the Locarno accords, now officially merged with the league, have completely changed its political situation in Europe.

"It is," he declared, "the end of the policy of mistrust, and the birth of an era of collaboration."

In the opinion of Dr. Stresemann the big difficulty was in winning over German public opinion to the ideas voiced at Locarno, and he now was convinced that a big majority of his people sincerely believed in the Locarno pact.

Sign Guaranty Pact

Warsaw.—Coincident with the arrival of a Rumanian military mission for the purpose of studying Poland war industries, Minister Grabowski, director of the press service in the foreign office, issued a statement to the correspondent explaining that it was a guaranty pact which Poland and Rumania signed and not a secret military treaty, as is claimed in Germany.

German War General Married

Munich, Bavaria.—General Erich Ludendorff, 61, who was a quarter-master-general of the German Imperial army in the world war, was married to Frau Dr. Mathilde Von Kemnitz. The bride who was mentioned by the first Frau Ludendorff in the divorce proceedings in July, is a specialist on nervous diseases. The marriage ceremony was strictly private.

Will Try For New Record

Cologne.—Ernest Vierkoetter, the German swimmer who recently broke the record for swimming the English Channel, but lost it a few days later to Georges Michel, has left for Calais for an attempt to regain his honors.

Vierkoetter crossed the channel August 30, in 12 hours and 43 minutes. On September 10, Michel set the time at 11 hours 5 minutes.

The Long and the Short of It

Wee "Geordie" Wood, one of the best known comedians of the English stage, sailed from Montreal the other day on the Canadian Pacific ship Montrose after an extended tour of America. In California he was the guest of his great friend, Charlie Chaplin.

He is seen in contrast with William Webber, General Agent, Atlantic Ports, Canadian Pacific, on the morning of departure.

C.P.R. Makes Grain History

In handling the Canadian banner grain harvest of 1925, the Canadian Pacific Railway has established record after record in the marketing and loading of grain so that the figures for the current year constitute a record not only for Canada but for the world.

A. Hatton, general superintendent of transportation of the system, has issued a report covering the movement of grain on Canadian Pacific western lines from August 1 up to midnight Friday, December 18. It is shown that on one day, Friday, November 20, 3,559,000 bushels of grain were marketed and on Friday, November 13, 1,994 cars containing approximately 2,921,000 bushels of grain were loaded. In the twenty-four hours of that day this represents 83 cars loaded every hour or a little more than one and one-third cars per minute.

Usually marketings and loadings take a sudden drop with the approach of the close of navigation but this year there was little diminution as the report shows loadings on December 8 at 1,425 cars.

Despite adverse weather conditions in the month of October which retarded threshing, marketings up to December 18 on Canadian Pacific western lines totalled 160,519,000 bushels of wheat and 33,343,590 bushels of coarse grains. During the same period 118,160 cars carrying approximately 173,104,000 bushels were loaded. Of this loading, 9,000 cars went to Vancouver, and a considerable amount was absorbed by interior flour mills, but the great bulk went to the head of the lakes, Port William and Port Arthur, passing through the Winnipeg yards, including North Transcona, the largest individual yards in the world having a capacity of 10,000 cars.

From there the movement was over a 420 mile stretch of double track line to the lake front and on this run some records were also made, the highest number of loads moved eastward in any one day being 1,640. The daily average was in numbers of four figures.

The arrangements made by the Canadian Pacific Railway for the conveyance of the crop worked smoothly and there was not a single case of car shortage justifying the provisions made in the way of up-to-date facilities and heavy freight power.

The Bell With the Voice of a Woman

Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Scotland" moored at Kowloon, near Hong Kong.

NOT far from the Temple of Todai-ji, at Nara, Japan, there is a famous bell which weighs about forty-eight tons. It is 13½ feet high, 10 inches thick at the rim, and 27 feet in circumference, and the volume of its tones is enormous and awe-inspiring. At times it seems as if there were a woman in the bell, weeping bitterly in the night, singing blithely during the day. Passengers making the Round the World Cruise on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland heard it ring, saw the immense volume sway.

About this famous bell there is a fantastic tale carried on the lips of slant-eyed, Mongolian children through the picturesque, intriguing streets on which they play. Many hundreds of years ago, a stern and powerful Emperor ruled Japan with an iron hand. When ill, he would command impossible feats for his amusement. One day he decided he would have a new bronze bell, one which would ring louder and issue mellower tones than any other bell in his empire.

So he sent for Hop Si Wong, the official bell-maker, an aged and honorable servant of the Crown for many years, a man who had served three Emperors. And Hop Si Wong was told to make a bell that would please the Emperor. An artistic bell, a beautiful bell, a bell with a tone like a human voice.

Hop went away to his workshop, which was near his home, and worked for days and nights, mixed the ingredients, watched over the boiling pot. Finally the bell was made and erected. Soon it rang.

No sooner had the first echo died away than the Emperor called for Hop. "Imbecile!" thundered the Emperor. "May four foul carcasses be devoured by demons. That you should inflict upon the ears of your monarch this desecration. Dost call that a bell? An unwieldy lump of brass it is. Go and make another and, if you fail, untold agony will be your due." So spoke the Emperor. Perhaps not in those words, but in similar language, for Hop came home that night in mortal fear and trembling.

Hop had a beautiful daughter. She was as good as she was beautiful—indeed, a rarity. To her, Hop sobbed out the story of his failure and the displeasure of the Emperor. She listened sympathetically and nodded wisely and told Hop to start work immediately on the second bell.

Again the ancient servitor worked for days and nights. Again he boiled his ingredients. And one day at twilight, just as he was watching over them, his beautiful daughter rushed out of the house and leaped into the huge boiling cauldron of molten alloy, shouting, "Father, 'tis for thee."

Sad at heart and weary, Hop continued his work. His nimble fingers fashioned the bell with the deftness of grief. Intricate designs, very tiny, appeared on it as if by magic. It grew to a great size, and many workmen were needed to erect it. When it rang, there was a tone of such great beauty, as of a woman weeping bitterly in the night over the departure of her lover, as of a mother mourning for her child, as of a lark welcoming the dawn, that all who heard it wept.

The mighty Emperor called for Hop and said, "Thou hast done well indeed, I am satisfied." And Hop fell dead.

Such is the story told about the bell which is not far from the Temple of Todai-ji. But then, the same story is told of other beautiful bells in Japan.

Lister BRITISH-BUILT FARM ELECTRIC PLANT With Big Reserve Power

Apart from its great economy and the safety it ensures, there isn't a single convenience of modern city life one misses where a Lister Electric Lighting Plant is installed.

There are hundreds of farm homes all over Canada where Lister has turned the gloom of winter into the glory of summer. This is the first and only

Direct-Coupled Slow-Speed Electric Lighting Plant

700 R.P.M.

Introduced into Canada.

An all-British built plant of 1,500 Watt capacity, with Lister 3½ H.P. Slow Speed, vertical water-cooled engine, high tension magneto ignition—automatic lubrication.

A more complete and efficient plant—perfectly adapted for every use in the farm home and outbuildings—is not built.

Every engine is fitted with a belt pulley and after providing a complete lighting service it has plenty of reserve power to drive at same time any domestic machinery or milking equipment.

It means safety, economy and convenience that should be at the command of every farm home. Write us today for full particulars, our very easy price and terms for installing a complete outfit.

WINTER, THE FIRE BREEDER

The great bulk of Canada's fire loss occurs in the winter, due to climatic conditions and the necessity for heating our buildings. More than 80 p.c. of our fire losses are preventable. Here are a few suggestions that should help to reduce our annual fire waste of $50,000,000.

Stoves and Furnaces—See that the floor under your stove is protected with metal, extending at least nine inches on all sides. See that the stovepipes are kept at least twelve inches from woodwork, or, if this is impossible, see that the woodwork is protected with metal on top of asbestos. See that stovepipes entering wooden partitions are protected with a ventilated metal thimble and that all stovepipes where they enter the chimney are properly fitted with a metal collar and that the smoke pipe of your furnace is correctly fitted into the chimney and at least twelve inches from all woodwork, and that hot-air pipes in contact with wood are insulated with asbestos and metal and that your hot water-pipes are at least one inch from all woodwork.

Basements—See that your basement is free from rubbish and useless inflammable material.

Ashes—See that your ashes are not kept in cartons, wooden boxes or barrels or against wooden partitions, and when they are removed from your basement see that they are not piled against wooden walls of buildings or fences. Ashes should always be kept in metal containers.—Insurance.

Mrs. Fisher left last Friday to pay a visit with friends at Lethbridge. Her husband accompanied her as far as Calgary.

A. McNaughton was a visitor in Calgary over the week-end.

Henry Moyle of Toronto is visiting his brother Fred here for a few days whilst on his way home from Prince Rupert. In speaking of the country north of here, Mr. Moyle speaks of the experience which befell a friend who owned a silver mine west of Edmonton. The property, he states was first offered to a big corporation in Canada who refused to have anything to do with it. Shortly after, a visitor from the States happened along and a deal was made for the transfer of the mine. Operations were commenced, and ore taken out was shipped to Trail where the proceeds from the first car was sufficient to cover the whole cost of the purchase of the mine.

The local Branch of The Daughters of the Empire will hold a tea on Friday, September 24th, at the home of Mrs. S. G. Watt. Silver collection. Everyone invited.

Rally Day will be observed at Lone Pine Community Hall on Sunday, September 26th. The preaching service will begin at 3 p.m. Rev. A. E. Hayes will conduct the services.

On Making A Will

United Free Church Record
"In the Order for the Visitation of the Sick in the Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England, instructions are given to the minister as to various exhortations to the sick person with regard to his spiritual affairs. The rubric following with regard to his temporal affairs draws attention to a matter which, though many ministers may think it presumption to make such an inquiry, is often of the gravest importance," says a writer in The Record of the United Free Church.

"And if he hath not before disposed of his goods, let him then be admonished to make his will, and to declare his debts, what he oweth, and what is owing to him; for the better discharging of his conscience, and the quietness of his executors. But men should often be put in remembrance to take order for the settling of their temporal estates while they are in health."

"The remembrance of a fragrant life, full of good and kindly deeds, has often been spoiled by the irreparable omission to make a will. One knows such cases as these: a widow being turned out of a home built up largely by her own industry; a farm round which happy memories cling passing from the family into the hands of a distant heir; a prosperous business ruined and the employees turned adrift—all on account of a man's neglect, his last sin of omission. There is no more fertile source of family dispeace than an intestate succession."

"One has known good Christian men and women to fight like tigers over some trifling personal belongings which ought to have been left to one of them by a will; maiden sisters have been left in poverty, to earn their own living, while sisters, married and provided for, have carried off that which would have kept their less fortunate sisters in comfort; young children deprived of home and parents have been left to the tender mercies of strangers."

"A deathbed will is often an unsatisfactory will. It is probably prepared hurriedly and with little consideration, and the rubric referred to is therefore wise in urging that 'men should often be put in remembrance to take order for the settling of their temporal estates, while they are in health.' In all cases legal assistance should be sought, even for the simplest of wills."

"The home-made will and the printed form filled up are sometimes worse than no will at all. In many cases they are an expensive economy. They, no doubt, save a lawyer's fee at the time, but they often cost many times the fee before they can be put into operation. There is an old saying that a man who is his own lawyer has a fool for his client—a saying which applies as much to lawyers themselves as to the rest of mankind, for even eminent judges who have written their own wills have sometimes made a mess of them."

"And, finally, the place for a man's will is in the safe in his lawyer's office. A man has been known to put his will so safely away that careful search has not revealed its hiding place until, perhaps years afterward, it turns up in the family Bible; and cases are not unknown where a malevolent person, finding a will in a deceased's repositories, has put it into the fire. These and other reasons make it evident that a man should not retain his will in his own possession."

Engagement

The engagement is announced of Alice Winspear, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Winspear, of Hartlepool, England, to Charles E. Phillipson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Phillipson, St. James, Winnipeg, and a nephew of J. W. Phillipson, of Didsbury. The announcement is made doubly interesting from the fact that in the prospective groom's father it reminds one of an event which some 23 years ago horrified the civilized world. There are probably some around here yet who recall the tragic disaster which befel the battleship Camperdown, which in executing certain maneuvers in the Mediterranean with the rest of the British fleet was rammed by the Victoria following and sank almost immediately, carrying down with her practically the entire crew numbering 800.

There were just three survivors, and of these C. H. Phillipson was one. It would have been thought that an event of this nature would suffice for

Take Drastic Measures

United States Mail Clerks Get Orders To Shoot To Kill

"Shoot to kill" orders have been issued to 22,500 railway mail clerks as a drastic means of protecting the precious postal treasure from bandits the United States post office department has announced.

If this method of defensive warfare against the underworld proves inadequate, post office department authorities indicated the United States Marines might be called in again to guard the mails, as they did in 1921.

The command not only applies to railway mail clerks, but to all postal employees, and is intended as a warning to bandits who make a business of robbing mail trains. The order instructs all employees to defend mail property even at the expense of their own lives.

The recent Chicago hold-up, when $135,000 in currency was stolen, is said to have inspired the order. Postmaster-General New issued the command after a sudden conference with postal experts.

The Cape Frock An Established Vogue

The cape has become a part of every phase of the mode, and is nowhere more smart than when used on the street frock, as pictured in this model of navy trimmed with polka-dotted silk. The cape is separate, but so flattering you will never want to take it off. It has a long tie collar of its own to be tied at the neck, or the ends crossed, one at the back and one at the front. The frock underneath is straight, with a tailored collar ending in long revers, and a set-in panel. The light sleeves are set-in at the armholes, and a wide belt is crushed into a big buckle. No. 1299 is for the miss and small woman, and is in sizes 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 18 years ($36 bust) requires 3 1/2 yards 54-inch plain material, and 1 1/2 yards 54-inch plain material, and 1 1/2 yards 54-inch figured. Price 20 cents.

The secret of distinctive dress lies in good taste rather than a lavish expenditure of money. Every woman should want to make her own clothes, and the home dressmaker will find the designs illustrated in our new Fashion Book to be practical and simple, yet maintaining the spirit of the mode of the moment. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

A Little Miss and a Big Man

Though her proximity to a life belt might seem to indicate certain fears of the broad bosom of the Atlantic on the part of Miss Mary Ferguson Lawson, aged 5, of Winnipeg, you would be wrong in supposing it, since the young lady has merely taken up this position for purposes of photography.

Like many more experienced travelers, Miss Lawson chose the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland—with which, of course, are included her commander, R. G. Latta, and her purser, J. Walker Bartlett (the tall man)—as the most satisfactory means of trans-Atlantic locomotion for a young and unaccompanied voyager. For all three, the ship the skipper and the purser, have seen most of the great ports of the world, as well as many of its out-of-the-way corners on numerous cruises, and have traversed the Atlantic many a time.

Mary was born in Winnipeg, but lived with her mother in England. Now her mother is dead and she is going to live with an uncle, R. W. Ferguson, at Woodstock, Ont.

EARLY LEADERS OF ISRAEL

Golden Text: Let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and perfecter of our faith. Hebrews 12:1, 2.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 105:1-8.

A Review By Means of Allusions

As you read each allusion, find out how many pupils recognize it, and let one pupil explain it. Then rapidly ask a few questions about the lesson which the allusion recalls.

"God lets us thirst by Horeb's rock, And hunger in the wilderness; Yet at our feeblest, faintest knock, He waits to bless." Angela of Life and Death alike are his. Without his leave they pass no threshold o'er.—Longfellow.

Look you, the sins of the fathers are to be laid upon the children.—Shakespeare.

Do not wait with words unspoken. While life's daily bread is broken—Gentle speech is oft like manna from the skies.—Margaret E. Sangster.

For us the Lord's Supper means not only that the destroying forces pass over us and leave us in safety, but that the gracious, loving God sees in our spiritual sharing of the sufferings of Christ an invitation to him to enter our lives.—Bishop McConnell.

Thirty-five centuries have passed since the first recorded persecution of the Israelites, and only yesterday the gutters in Russian villages were running with their blood; yet civilization has still to learn the lesson that the Jew can be destroyed only by kindness.—Lawrence Langer.

German Anti-Republicans Glad to Have Former Crown Prince

Former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm has arrived at Potsdam, the favorite residence of his ancestor, Frederick the Great, and now a fortress of the German anti-Republicans who are delighted to have a Hohenzollern there again.

The former crown prince, who hitherto has been living the life of a country squire in his castle at Oels, which may be taken away from him as a result of the government's measures in connection with the former German prince's property, says he intends to live a "quiet, secluded life."

Hungarian Peasants Sell Children

Sale of children by Hungarian peasants is said to be so common, due to the terrible plight of the peasantry, that regular market prices exist. The maximum price of £3 is paid for children of from thirteen to fifteen years. The buyers are farmers looking for cheap, unprotected labor.

The Value Of a Farmer

By Chas. W. Peterson

There is no subject which should interest the smaller towns all over Canada than the development of their rural trading areas to the greatest possible extent. A study of the value to Canada of a farmer is illuminating. It is shown that over 163 million dollars have been brought to this country in cash and effects by immigrants. This new wealth has played its important part in the development of the country. Prof. Irving Fisher calculates that the productive value of the average individual to the state is $3,000. The average new-born child has a money value of $95—the value increasing to $4,000 by twenty years and dropping to $2,900 at fifty years of age, according to accepted calculations.

Canadian railways are vitally interested in ascertaining the traffic value of a settler. Some years ago able statisticians obtained as a basis, the percentage of their whole freight traffic derived from agriculture (horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, wheat, oats, barley, flax) coal, and in and outgoing passenger revenue, and divided the number of settlers into the figures given. Employing statistics of the Dominion railway commission, the exact percentages of each of the railways were worked out, based on the total grain tonnage for the year between 1st of September, 1915, and the 31st August, 1916. Total for the three prairie provinces alone for the four classes of revenue above referred to was $163,516,318. In 1916 there were 219,105 farmers in those provinces and the division of one ton to be the other places the settler's value at $746.33. Assuming, therefore, that all traffic should be credited to the settler, that sum is the average amount each farmer put into the revenue of the railroad. $746.33 capitalized at 5 1/2 per cent, being interest government is paying on its Victory Bonds, gives a return of $13,569.63—the value of each average farmer to Canada.

If we capitalize that portion of the national income which is ascribable to human effort it is found to be from six to eight times all property value. The total amount of life insurance in force is only a fraction of this capitalized value. We may, therefore, readily come to the conclusion that Canada's "vital" asset is easily our greatest. If so, it seems to follow that reasonable public expenditure devoted to the task of adding to this asset by intelligently promoting immigration to this country, must be regarded as an excellent national business investment. The immediate beneficiary is the small town.

Joanna's reply was eagerly grateful: "Yes. That is what I tried to say. I want to be able to do as I please and not be criticized."

Yvonne rose, and crushed the fire from her cigarette. "That's all the talk we shall need, I think," she said. "We shall enjoy each other tremendously, I imagine. Shall we go down to the winter garden? There will be somebody besides Teddy Dorninster still there."

Joanna was conscious of something having been said, of some confidence reached out to her by Yvonne, which she had not fully understood. She was puzzled, as if she had been confronted by some subtle challenge that masked a strategy. For an instant she was at the point of breaking away, of running away regardless of the two trunks, a shining new one and a shabby old one, which had been lifted down from her taxi. This impulse subsided immediately, however. She decided that after a while she would understand Yvonne, perfectly.

And after awhile, a long time after, Joanna did!

In the winter garden the group that Yvonne had left around the stone table had broken up. Only Teddy Dorninster and two others remained. One of these was a swarthy, dark haired, dark eyed man, who might have been of any age between twenty-five to forty-five. He was presented by Yvonne as Pendleton. Joanna thought him a very grave, and unaffable person. The other besides Dorninster, was a woman, who was easily more than twenty-five but could not possibly have been forty. Yvonne identified her as Mrs. Marks. "Jove!" Lord Teddy exclaimed when Yvonne had named Pendleton and Mrs. Marks for Joanna. "I've thought of something clever!"

"Think it over carefully, Teddy," Yvonne admonished him, "before you reveal it. You're so often mistaken."

"But this is excellent," the irrepressible Lord Teddy insisted. "Positively ripping. Pendleton, here, and Doris, Doris Marks—don't you see?"

"Only that both are of a mind that alcohol is better than tea, and that you agree," Yvonne informed him. "And also that the tea I have poured for Miss Manners is awaiting to be passed!"

"A thousand pardons, Miss Manners—by the way, is it quite all right for me to repeat now what I let escape from me a few minutes ago? About you're being a devil in pretty girl, you know? I was telling Pen here—Ah, that clever thing I thought of. I must tell you what it was before I forget it!"

"One thing at a time," Yvonne assisted. "What were you telling Pen?"

"That I'd just seen the kind of a face that no man could ever forget after he'd once held it close to him. Isn't that what I said, Pen old boy?"

"You said absolutely nothing of the sort, or spoke of any face whatever," Pendleton gravely assured him.

"Perhaps I didn't," Teddy admitted. "But I thought it, and meant to say it. So Miss Manners will consider that I did."

Here the woman Yvonne had called Mrs. Marks interjected: "If she sees much of you, Teddy, she probably will have enough to remember of what you actually do say, without being bothered with what you merely think."

"Don't alarm her, please!" Lord Teddy exclaimed. "No woman ever remembers anything I say to her."

"They don't dare, perhaps," Pendleton observed.

"Both you and Doris—" Teddy began, and broke off. "Pendleton and Doris," he said again, "that brings me back to my clever thing. Listen, everyone! Pendleton and Doris Marks; whenever I come upon Pendleton here at Yvonne's I come upon Doris Marks. Penmarks! Isn't that clever? Penmarks! What?" It was only Lord Teddy himself who laughed, and Joanna wondered why.

CHAPTER XV.

Joanna Holds Her Own

It was not long before Lord Teddy had skillfully manoeuvred Joanna from the stone table in the winter garden into a tete a tete corner of the drawing room. "Never could stand Pendleton, you know," he confided to her when he had held a flame for her cigarette. "Can't see what Doris sees in him, or he in her, for that matter. Can you?"

"Do you know," Lord Teddy observed, moving closer to Joanna, "I'm going to be terribly fond of you before long."

"Is that how it is?" Joanna inquired. "You see everybody's fresh news to me, now. I have to wait for signs."

Lord Teddy eyed her intently. She felt singularly at ease with this exuberant young man. She laughed at him brightly when he protested: "Oh, really, now! You mustn't pretend that. I'm dreadfully dumb when a young woman declares that she doesn't know everything! It's never true these days, you know, and it's a lot jollier to not make believe!"

"I'll admit," she agreed, "that anything I don't know hurts. I've tried not to miss anything, but I have, a lot. So there's still a chance for you to do a bit of teaching. You may start with Mr. Pendleton and—was it Mrs. or Miss Marks. What was wrong about your Penmarks?"

"Do you know," he observed, moving from his chair to a place closer to her on the divan into which she had settled, "I'm going to be terribly fond of you before long."

"Yes, I'm sure of that," she informed him. "I can see the signs. Anyhow, teachers always are, aren't they? But you were saying?"

"About Penmarks? It's Mrs. Marks, of course. You'll probably see the other part of her tomorrow night? You'll be here, won't you?"

"I'll probably be here, but I don't know what's happening. Is it whatever you thought a while ago I might be coming to sing or dance for? I must find out yet what you think specially about singers and dancers."

"Yvonne's giving something or other; usual thing. Doris will be on deck with her husband; he's not a bad sort, but a bit empty. She and Pen will be miserable trying to keep up appearances. It's beastly, of course, for anybody to have husbands and wives about, but these two moon about it so openly they're delighted. "Is he—married, too?"

"Profoundly! He has to be more surreptitious than any husband I know. You'll be fearfully amused by the two of them, Pen and Doris, when you're used to them. They're always about some place for tea. That's why I really was clever, you know!"

"And it doesn't make any difference—to anybody? To their friends, like Miss Coutant, and people who know of the husband and wife?"

Lord Teddy examined the girl beside him deliberately. He noted all the distinguishing patterns of her. His eyes dwelt particularly for an instant that barely could have been measured, on a smartly slitten knee, hardly yet escaped from the angular sharpness that is youth—but threatening to come out altogether from within the confines of a modishly meager dress. His glance, sweeping upward in its lightning appraisals, hovered joyously upon her mouth, that was almost round because of the full, scarlet curving of the lower lip and the deep, perfect bow of the upper one—a splash of color as if someone had crushed a red rose there. She knew what he was doing. She felt his eyes wherever they rested. Not a muscle of her twitched, but she was conscious of an exquisite thrill of satisfaction with herself. The knee had never before, upon such an occasion—and why were shirts worn short and lips shaped like round rose buds, and a gown fashioned so carefully, if not for open consideration?—the knee had never been so beautifully sheathed in a silk so perfect, and the lips never so daintily toned and balanced.

Cariboo Highway Now Opened

Telegraph Line Has Been in This Country Since 1866

The new Cariboo highway has at last been open to traffic, adding the final link in the communication of that secluded region with the outside world.

Since 1866 the Cariboo has been connected with the rest of the world by telegraph, ever since the Americans abandoned at Telegraph Creek their projected line to Russia.

The reason for such an undertaking was the desire to connect America with Europe by telegraphy. The snapping of the first British cable across the Atlantic led to suspicion that a submarine telegraph was not feasible and the construction of a line to Siberia, routed by the Cariboo, was undertaken and completed as far as Telegraph Creek. At this point word was received of the successful laying on the second attempt of a cable across the Atlantic.

Proud of Being Nuisances

Many Motorists Use Horn When It Is Unnecessary

There are a lot of drivers who take instant resort to the horn when their progress is impeded. It is an evidence of insanity, but there it is. Some of the tiny boats on the Mississippi would have to stop when they blew the whistle, but these ebullient motorists have to blow their horns whenever they are stopped. One may easily imagine that they are proud of the opportunity of showing what nuisances they are. Anyhow, they go it with a zeal and frenzy that is quite convincing. The horn may be an unnecessary noise, but you can't prove it to these nit wits.—Los Angeles Times.

THOUSANDS OF THANKFUL MOTHERS

Strongly Recommend Baby's Own Tablets to Their Friends

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would use nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise for them. Among the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgow, N.S., who writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children, and from my experience I would not be without them. I would urge every other mother of young children to keep a box of the Tablets in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Little Helps For This Week

Great peace have they which love Thy law.—Ps. cxix, 165.

Dear Lord and God, incline Thine ear unto my call! O grant me that in all, This will of mine May still be one with Thine!

Teach me to answer still, Whate'er my lot may be, To all Thou sendest me Of good or ill, All glory as God will.

—Alice Williams.

The root of all dissatisfaction and discontent with self, and with one's surroundings, and with one's prospects, can never be reached until we go down to the will of God in our soul's birth and soul's mission, and make the discovery of that will for us, and the doing it our chief aim and hope. No change in life's circumstances, no larger work, no happier outlook will be enough. We ourselves need to be born again; it is not our outward life that needs to be refashioned.—Newman Smyth.

Fastest Wheel In World

Turbine On Aeroplane Has Speed of 40,000 Revolutions a Minute

The fastest revolving wheel in the world, according to estimates of experts, is the turbine wheel on the special supercharger of the aeroplane used by Lieut. John Macready in his recent attempts to better the world's altitude record. It revolves at the almost inconceivable speed of 40,000 revolutions a minute—almost 700 a second. This is about twenty times the highest speed of an automobile crank shaft.—Popular Science Monthly.

Rub it in for Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

'Sure it pays—in a thousand ways'
The several questions re New Conference in Canada West, printed in this column last week resulted in a very interesting and illuminating discussion in our last Sunday morning service. Much interest and favor was shown in the prospect of organizing the present North-west district of the Canada Conference into a separate conference

Mr. A. Sweitzer of Florida, whose name is well-known in all Evangelical circles both in Canada and the United States was a recent visitor here at the homes of Messrs J. Hehn and Wm. Mr. and Mrs. A. Meek and Miss Wilma also returned via auto on Monday of this week. They too, report a most wonderful trip of many thousand miles.

KNOX UNITED CHURCH.

Sunday September 26th is Rally Day throughout the United churches of Canada. An excellent program is provided for the Sunday schools. A cordial invitation is given to the parents to be present at the morning session this Sunday.

In the evening the minister is taking as his subject "The Bitter Waters Made Sweet." It is not so much what happens to you in this world, as how you take it. All around us are successful men and women who are battling against odds, yet winning in the true sense. To know how others have overcome, helps us in our struggle. There is a brotherhood of suffering, and it is perhaps the greatest brotherhood in all the world. When General Booth was told that he would lose his eyesight he said to his son Bramwell, "I have done what I could for God's people with my eyes, now I shall have to do what I can for God's people with my eyes, now I shall have to do what I can for God and for the people without my eyes, now I shall have to do what I can for God and for the people without my eyes." It is a tale of the heroic that constitutes the theme Sunday evening.
